

Individual Reflection 2

Gustav Berndtzen

The second sprint felt much better than the first sprint, we had more time to structure and begin the coding process. The additional days we had this sprint made it less stressful and a more enjoyable experience implementing additional features for the program. The problem I experienced last week was sometimes getting stuck and having a hard time finding more fulfilling and useful tasks to complete however this week was not similar. I knew throughout the week what to do and it was easier to work with other groups within the team since all our tasks weren't hindering any other developers. Next sprint I will continue to work the way I'm currently doing, however, I want to find more ways I can work more efficiently.